The Massachusetts Senatorial

Contest.

Washington, 15.—The Massachusetts senatorial contest is examined in a new phase. Representative Crapo authorized the statement that the report that he had written a letter withdrawing from the contest was not true, for the reason that he was not a candidate, and consequently cannot withdraw. It is pretty well understood that friends of Hoar do not wish it stated officially, that Crapo is not a candidate, for it appears that Hoar cannot be elected. Hoar's friends much prefer Crapo to Governor Long. Long has affiliation with Butler and is the man selected by Butler to defeat Hoar. One of Butler's men, yesterday, said Butler's victory would lose half its pleasure to him (Butler) if Hoar should be elected. Some managers have been here this week. They say Hoar's prospects are growing brighter.

General Thomas.

Washington, 15.—The more the record of General Thomas is examined the more unjust, inaccurate and uncalled for does the late speech of Senator Cameron appear. Of necessity, all Southern officers were obliged, on the threshold of the war, to decide upon their course. This decision for George H. Thomas was made in December, 1860, when he arrived at Washington on leave from Texas, and reported that Twigg's intended treachery. The second cavalry, of which he was major, had Albert Sidney Johnson for its colonel, Robert E. Lee, lieutenant colonel, and Hardee senior, major, while Van Dorn, Kirby Smith, Hood and Fitzhugh Lee were among its officers. But two Southern officers in the regiment joined the rebellion. Thomas and another did not stay among such influences. He stood loyal from the first.

The Jeannette.

Washington, 15.—Before the Jeannette board, Chief Engineer Melville was recalled to identify documents to be introduced as evidence. These included the journal and a letter of the late Jerome Collins, and two letters of DeLong, claiming to relate to the DeLong-Collins difficulty. Melville testified that he was ignorant of the fact that the bodies which were buried near Melville were discovered by Jackson and DeLong until he read of it in the published accounts of the testimony of Norvov. The board will prepare a report upon the investigation up to the present time, but the work is not to be completed until the Jeannette survivors in Siberia are examined. They are expected to return sometime in March.

Working Politicians.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., 14.—The convention of Knights of Labor, in the district, with 275 delegates, held a session here yesterday and discussed questions of interest to that class. The understanding is the body is making strenuous efforts to unite all working classes, with a view to sweeping the state, politically, as their forces are large enough.

New Steamship Line.

Washington, 15.—The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company is expending $3,000,000 on a steamship line, and before long will have steamships running between Newport and Rio Janeiro, and between the same port and Europe. It is expected three steamers will be completed in three months. The company hopes to do a large business exchanging flour, coffee and sugar. This is the same enterprise in which John Roach is claimed he failed for the want of Congressional subsidy.

The Nebraska Senatorship.

Omaha, 15.—Lincoln is swarming with people from all parts of the state, the attraction being the senatorial contest. The first ballot takes place to-morrow. Nothing definite can be said regarding any particular candidate. The chances on the first ballot are that Millard will probably get twenty-five republican votes, Sanders, seventeen; Henderson, and Cowdin ten each; the rest scattering. The democrats will hold a caucus to-night to decide on some man to unite on. Their choice will be one of three men—J. Sterling Morton, J. W. Savage and Mayor Bayd, of Omaha. There is quite a strong demonstration among the democrats in favor of Boyd. The anti-monopolists will also hold a caucus. It is doubtful whether the democrats and anti-monopolists can combine, as there is a division on the ranks of both. Hon. J. H. Millard, the leading republican candidate, has gained considerable strength to-day.

Didn't Like It.

Zanesville, Ohio, 15.—On Saturday, O'Connor, an ex-priest, who has been wandering all over the United States, delivering anti-Catholic lectures, arrived yesterday and announced his intention of speaking in Black's Hall last night. At an early hour people gathered to hear the lecturer. They seemed orderly, but the instant O'Connor appeared on the stage he was greeted with showers of stones, rotten eggs, etc. Confusion reigned, and O'Connor hastily jumped into an ante-room and locked the door. Women screamed, and it was at first thought a general riot would ensue, in case of which the Protestants in the house would have suffered fearfully, as the opposition was greatly in the majority. O'Connor's assailants were about to leave the hall when somebody suggested to coal tar and feather him, and were about to carry out their threat, when a detachment of police appeared on the scene and arrested O'Connor. There is much excitement over the affair. No arrests have been made. There are three daily papers, two morning and one evening, who are afraid to publish names or particulars of the affair, as the Catholic element is in the ascendancy.

Wall Street Bull.

New York, 14.—Wall street brokers are not making their salt. Scarcely anything is doing in the stock exchange. Great holders of stock would be heavy losers if compelled to sell at the present prices. Gould, for instance, owns $50,000. Some of the big men of the street are talking of going away for a while. Vanderbilt is going to California to take that trip around the world, as soon as he can get ready. He will be a long yet, as the large steam yacht he ordered will not be ready before that time; Rufus Hatch, who declares that the bottom has dropped out of the market to stay out a while, will sail for Europe very soon. Gould is bearish and so is Keene. It is seldom that Wall street knows what Keene is doing. He usually shrouds his operations in mystery. Even his brokers are often mystified by his doings. He works alone, rarely going into pools or combinations, and buys or sells through a number of brokers. At present, however, enough is known of his movements to make it safe to say he is not a believer in high prices. Just at this time he is holding off, as he sees no inducement to go in and help strengthen the market when a combination of other operators are waiting the first opportunity to unload their piles of stocks on it. This combination hopes to start a bull movement soon. It is made up of Mr. Cammick, Charles Osborn, Wm. Scott, Mr. Woerchesheffer and Henry Smith. This is a strong team, but it doesn't seem strong enough to pull the market their way, while Gould declines to assist and Keene is actively inimical. Gould being heavily loaded with stocks is naturally a bull, but he has not cared to disguise the fact that he thinks the present moment inopportune for a bull movement.

Industrial Items.

Pall River, Mass., 14.—Fifteen percent reduction of wages takes effect in Pall River Iron Works, in this city, Mount Hope and Old Colony Iron Works, Somerset, on Monday. A general strike is threatened.

London, 15.—Employees of the Calsonia Railway struck, and only ten of the engines in Hamilton depot can be used. Five hundred men paraded in Hamilton to-day prior to quitting the town for Glasgow.

The Merry English.

Paris, 15.—The Rappel, referring to the Prince of Wales unveiling the statue of the Prince Imperial at Woolwich, stipulates the English nation as a herd of cattle, and the English army as an army of women. Other newspapers make spiteful comments on the affair.

New Masonic Hall.

With the single exception of frescoing, which will be accomplished at no distant day, this is one of the finest and most elegantly furnished halls on the Pacific coast. This is saying much for a little town like Park City, with less than 5,000 inhabitants, and is an indisputable evidence of prosperity and money in circulation. Mr. Ascheim's store is built of sandstone, and is thirty by ninety feet, and the lodge occupies the entire upper story. The Blue Lodge has upon its rolls about fifty active members, with a chapter recently organized. The lodge received its charter less than three years ago, and they are now putting in place and arranging a set of furniture that will cost, when completed, nearly $14,000. Three splendid chandeliers give light from the center line of the room. Office chairs, upholstered in blue velvet, with altar columns, etc., to match, while an elegant and durable Brussels carpet, with subdued colors, covers the floor, with a covering of canvas and fastenings, to make it lie down without a wrinkle, to be applied on those festive occasions, when their lady friends are invited to pass a social evening and trip the light fantastic. Much credit is due the brethren for their enterprise, which is a guarantee of their belief in the solid future of the Park.—Park Mining Record.
